

The Balloon Escape

By John Rickey, 2009

I had been flying for hours. What could I do? I looked around in the balloon and found a sack. The only thing in the sack was a telescope. I put my eye to the telescope and saw nothing but forest. But when I looked up, I began to smile.

I had been flying for hours. What could I do? I looked around in the balloon and found a sack. The only thing in the sack was a telescope. I put my eye to the telescope and saw nothing but forest. But when I looked up, I began to smile.

