

Hiding In A Box

By John Rickey, 2009

I could hardly move in the little box but I had nowhere else to hide. I heard someone walking towards me. I started to shiver. At first he walked right by me but all the dust in the box made me sneeze. He ran over to the box and opened it up.

I could hardly move in the little box but I had nowhere else to hide. I heard someone walking towards me. I started to shiver. At first he walked right by me but all the dust in the box made me sneeze. He ran over to the box and opened it up.

